

Battle Of The Bun

We test drive a few burger at local food hot spots. It's a tough job...

Porter BBQ Burger

Under the bun: House seasoned burger topped with onion rings, house-made Porter BBQ sauce, smoked gouda, pickled pepper relish.

$14.5

You're going to get a spicy kick out of this one! The Eagle Tavern, new to the food scene in downtown Pottsville, has a kitchen staff with years of experience, and it shows across the menu. Thick housemade onion rings compliment the housemade BBQ sauce that is infused with a local porter beer. Gouda cheese is a good choice for this one. We skipped the pickled relish and if there were any changes we'd love to see...It's a thicker bun that can carry the weight of such a tasty burger. Served with french fries so good we ate them first.

Hawaiian Burger

Under the bun: Grilled, seasoned 8 ounce Angus beef burger, topped with ham, cheese, and pineapple. Served on a kaiser roll.

$10.55

The grill at OIP Pottsville is on fire with this Hawaiian infused angus burger that we ordered with an extra beef patty, just because. Ham and pineapple, with lots of cheese, made this burger stand out from the rest on the menu. You could tell the ham and pineapple made a stop on the grill before meeting up with the 8-ounce beef patties. We got ours Medium. We were trying to decide what kind of dipping sauce would go best with this one. Maybe a dipper on the side of southwest ranch?

Fried Chicken Sandwich w/ Fries

Under the bun: Crispy fried chicken with onion, lettuce, and tomato on a brioche roll. Served with crispy fries.

$7.95

This Lunch Special, usually available Tuesdays, was the best under $10 lunch we've had in a long time. Perfect golden crisp fried chicken. fresh lettuce, tomato, and onion. Although, I admit I removed the onion because I've never been a fan. The french fries were a nice size and more than enough to do the job. For the price this one is going to be hard to beat. Roma does have a soft-turf burger floating around on the menu, and it def caught my eye. We'll do a review on that one later. For now, if you're looking for a great lunch at a great price. Here it is!
